Numbers are crucial for various daily activities. Learning to count in French from 1 to 20 and understanding basic mathematical operations will prove useful when shopping, telling time, or ordering food at a restaurant.

3. Colors and Descriptions

Learning colors enables you to describe objects and express preferences. For example, "rouge" means red, "bleu" means blue, and "vert" means green. Knowing these colors enhances your ability to communicate and understand others.

French cuisine is renowned worldwide, and knowing the names of popular food and drinks is essential. Terms like "pain" (bread), "fromage" (cheese), and "vin"
