The Importance of Vastu Shastra in House Planning

It provides guidelines and principles to design homes and other structures in harmony with nature's forces. Demystifying East Facing Homes

East-facing homes are considered highly auspicious in Vastu Shastra. The direction of the sun has a significant influence on the energy flow within your living space. An east-facing home allows the gentle morning sun rays to enter, creating a pleasant and positive atmosphere.

According to Vastu Shastra, the sun is the ultimate source of energy and life. The first rays of the sun, known as the Golden Rays, are extremely beneficial to our well-being. Living in an east-facing home ensures that you receive these positive energies, promoting good health, prosperity, and overall happiness.
