One of the best ways to experience the beauty of Sedona in autumn is by taking a hike in the famous Devil's Bridge Trail or Cathedral Rock. The trails lead you through canyons, red rocks, and dense forests, offering stunning views that will leave you breathless. Capture the magnificence of the fall foliage and create memories that will last a lifetime.

Thrilling Adventures Await

For the adventure seekers, Sedona offers a wide range of exhilarating activities that will get your adrenaline pumping. From off-roading through rugged terrains to hot air balloon rides offering panoramic views of the stunning landscapes, there is something for everyone.

Consider embarking on a thrilling ATV tour that will take you through the magnificent backcountry of Sedona. Traverse through rocky terrains, sandy washes, and steep ascents as you witness the surreal beauty of Sedona's natural wonders. Or, take to the skies with a helicopter tour that provides a unique perspective on the iconic red rock formations, canyons, and hidden valleys.

Discovering Hidden Gems

While Sedona is known for its spectacular red rock formations, there are also hidden gems waiting to be discovered. Explore the tranquility of Oak Creek Canyon, a scenic gorge known for its waterfalls, swimming holes, and serene hiking trails. Take a dip in the crystal-clear waters or enjoy a picnic by the creek, surrounded by the calming sounds of nature.

Another hidden gem in Sedona is the renowned Chapel of the Holy Cross, an architectural marvel that blends seamlessly with the surrounding red rock formations. The chapel offers a peaceful sanctuary where visitors can reflect, admire the sweeping views, and find solace in the tranquility of the surroundings.

Indulging Your Senses

A trip to Sedona is not complete without indulging in the region's culinary delights and rejuvenating spa experiences. Sedona's thriving culinary scene offers a diverse range of options, from farm-to-table restaurants showcasing the region's ingredients to charming cafes serving delicious local treats.

After a day of exploration, unwind and pamper yourself at one of Sedona's world-class spas. Let the gentle touch of skilled therapists melt away your stress, offering relaxation and rejuvenation. Many spas in Sedona also incorporate the region's native healing practices, providing a holistic experience that nourishes both the body and soul.

Sedona in autumn is a destination that combines natural beauty, thrilling adventures, hidden gems, and a chance to reconnect with oneself. Approximately 75 pages with more than 70 photographs. This book is ENTIRELY pictorial.

Sedona, also called 'Red Rock Country' after the distinctive red sandstone permeating the region. The rock was formed in the Permian geological period approximately 250 to 300 million years ago and has been a favorite location for photographers for decades. Early morning and late evening are ideal times for photography as the morning and evening sunlight make the rocks appear to glow a brilliant red.

The town has become a favorite tourist destination with a large number of hotels, resorts, and four-wheel drive tours able to accommodate considerable numbers. For Arizona the the average temperature is considered moderate as the towns elevation is approxately 4,500 feet allowing for modrate winters and summers.

For those with a photograhic orientation the following images were taken with a 35MM Nikon N8008 camera with a 28-80MM Nikon zoom lense on Fujicolor Superia iso 200 film.

The author began photography and photo-journalism in early 1963 when he accepted an offer from his local newspaper to write about and photograph sports events at the Arizona high school where he was a junior. After a stint in the service, he had an opportunity to study photography and printing techniques with Bernard Hoffman, a true gentleman and scholar, and one of the earliest staff photographers for Life Magazine.

Since that time he has had thousands of photographs and hundreds of articles published by more than 60 national and international periodicals. He was also a contributing editor for one of them for more than ten years. Topics ran the gamut from professional sports, medicine, archeology, and photography to science.

After twenty years away from Arizona he returned in 1985 and it has been the base from which all his photographic excursions are launched. Along with many others he has embraced digital photography but can still be seen, from time to time, peering through the ground glass of a large format camera, hoisting a large medium format 6x7, or indeed still using a 35mm film camera.

The photographer currently has fine art photography on exhibit at The Center for Fine Arts in Globe, Arizona, and is currently represented by more than ten stock photo agencies where he has more than 13,000 photographs available for commercial use.
