

Explore the World Through Your Home: Travel Home Design With Global Spirit

Are you someone who loves to travel and experience different cultures? Do you have a passion for design and decorating? If so, then you're in luck! In this article, we will delve into the enchanting world of travel home design, where you can infuse your living space with the spirit of global adventures. So grab your imagination and let's embark on this design journey together!

Embracing Cultural Influences

One of the most exciting aspects of travel home design is the opportunity to immerse yourself in diverse cultural influences. From the vibrant colors of Moroccan marketplaces to the minimalistic elegance of Japanese Zen gardens, each culture offers its unique design elements that can be incorporated into your home.

When it comes to choosing a design style, don't be afraid to mix and match! For example, you can combine the warm, earthy tones of African decor with the intricate patterns of Indian textiles. The key is to strike a balance and create a cohesive look that reflects your personal taste and the spirit of the places you've visited.

Furnishings and Decor

The secret to achieving an authentic travel home design is in choosing the right furnishings and decor pieces. Start by selecting statement furniture items that convey the essence of a particular culture. For instance, a hand-carved wooden coffee table or a Moroccan-inspired rug can bring an instant touch of exoticism to your living room.

Accessorize with global accents such as intricately patterned throw pillows, embellished tapestries, or hand-painted ceramics. These small details can accentuate the overall theme and add depth to the design. Don't forget to incorporate plants and greenery to create a sense of lushness reminiscent of tropical destinations.

Colors and Textures

Colors play a vital role in travel home design. Each culture has its color palette, often inspired by the natural surroundings or traditional symbolism. While vibrant hues like turquoise, orange, and fuchsia might dominate in Mexican decor, subtler earthy tones are favored in Scandinavian design.

Experiment with textures by mixing materials like wood, metal, and fabric. Consider adding Moroccan tiles for a touch of intricate patterns or Japanese shoji screens for a minimalist yet elegant look. Combining various textures will add visual interest and depth to your space.

Natural Elements

Bringing the outdoors inside is an integral part of travel home design.

Incorporating natural elements not only connects your space with the wider world but also creates a soothing and relaxing ambiance. Introduce natural materials like bamboo, rattan, or jute into your furniture and decor choices.

Additionally, consider incorporating natural light sources like large windows to let the sunlight in. Natural light has a significant impact on the overall atmosphere of a room, making it feel more open and inviting. If you're looking for a more dramatic effect, a stone feature wall can add a touch of rustic charm to any space.

Personal Touches

Finally, don't forget to infuse your travel home design with personal touches that reflect your own adventures. Display unique souvenirs, framed photographs, or even a world map to showcase places you've explored. These personal elements not only add an individual flair to your design but also serve as conversation starters for guests.

Remember, travel home design is all about evoking memories and creating a space that tells the story of your global adventures. So let your imagination run wild and transform your home into a captivating journey around the world!

“A peek inside the homes of tastemakers . . . A masterclass in how to infuse the ideas and finds you scoop up on the road into your digs back home.” —Chairish

A road map for bringing far-flung design ideas back home, Travel Home shows us how to curate interiors that reflect our favorite places and experiences in ways that are beautiful and authentic. Touring the homes of leaders in global design who share a deep affection for travel, the book explores interiors with influences as widespread as Marrakesh, Paris, Cuba, Tokyo, Portugal, and beyond. Vivid photography is supplemented with insightful essays, interviews, and hardworking tips for cultivating your own global home. For globetrotters and armchair travelers alike, Travel Home showcases the interplay between travel and design, revealing how we can take inspiration from the beauty we experience in the world and bring it into our everyday lives.

“The book is a study of how travel informs our taste—and a beautiful illustration of the creative potential a mother-daughter partnership can yield.” —goop

“Upon finishing Travel Home I felt inspired in the same way that I feel inspired after a big trip. It’s a book you’re going to want to take notes in, take pictures of, and share with your friends. It will be a book very well loved.” —Justina Blakeney, designer and New York Times-bestselling author of Jungalow

“There are so many books about interiors, but this book is a genuine opportunity to get to know the people and the mentality behind their spaces.” —Nate Berkus and Jeremiah Brent, authors and television stars on Nate & Jeremiah by Design
