The Magic of Monologues

The monologue, an art form that dates back centuries, is an intimate performance where a single character addresses the audience directly.

These stories take you on journeys that unfold through the minds and hearts of the characters themselves. Each monologue offers a unique perspective, inviting readers to delve into the intricacies of the human psyche. From the joyous moments of life to the darkest corridors of grief, the writers' words will resonate with you on a profound level.

The Angel In The Trees, one of the standout monologues in this collection, is a tale that will take your breath away. It follows the journey of a young protagonist who discovers an ethereal presence hidden within the forest. As the story unravels, we witness the transformation of the character's perspective on life, love, and spirituality.

A Captivating Collection

While The Angel In The Trees is undoubtedly a gem within this collection, it is just one of many captivating monologues that await your discovery.

The collection includes monologues that explore themes of love, loss, identity, and resilience. From the heart-wrenching tale of a betrayed lover seeking closure, to the uplifting story of a survivor embracing their scars as a testament to their strength, each monologue showcases the power of storytelling as a means of catharsis and personal growth.

The author's unparalleled ability to craft vivid imagery and realistic characters will transport you into a parallel world, untouched by the mundane. As you immerse yourself in each story, you'll find yourself laughing, crying, and reflecting on the human experience.

The Timeless Appeal

One of the striking aspects of this collection is its timeless appeal. From millennials to baby boomers, readers of all generations will find something to connect with within these monologues.

The themes explored are universal, transcending age, gender, and cultural barriers. The human emotions experienced by the characters resonate with readers across the spectrum of life, making this collection a must-read for anyone seeking a heartfelt and emotional journey.

So, whether you are a bookworm looking for your next literary escape or someone eager to explore the depths of human emotions, "The Angel In The Trees And Other Monologues" is a treasure trove waiting to be discovered.

A lapsed academic haunted by her past, and by an ambiguous angel, in the backwoods of the American South; a Midwestern widower dreams of returning to the Ireland of his youth; a heartsick cabbie auditions for his ex in a pub-theatre in Cork City; a schizophrenic grapples for freedom from the mother in his mind; three voices of the COVID-19 pandemic seek long-distance resolution and reunion. In these and other monologues, selected from over two decades of work, award-winning American playwright Dan O'Brien illuminates, in heartbreaking and unwavering fashion, the humanity of lost souls longing to be heard.

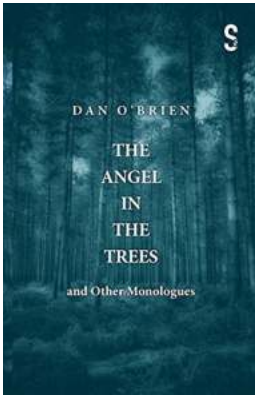

"Dan O'Brien is a playwright-poet who, like a mash-up of Seamus Heaney and Dashiell Hammett, puts the audience in the middle of an unfolding mystery promising both revelation and terror, and delivering an equal measure of both."
Robert Schenkkan

"O'Brien is an outstanding wordsmith and a sharp observer of character." Variety

"emotionally gripping, psychologically astute...a bracing and absorbing piece of theater." New York Times (Critics' Pick) on The Body of an American

"A masterpiece of truthfulness and feeling" The Guardian on War Reporter

"utterly riveting...frequently exhilarating" The Washington Post on The Body of an American
