Each month, you'll focus on a different area or aspect of your home, such as the kitchen, living room, bedroom, or outdoor space. By dedicating your attention to one area at a time, you can ensure that it receives the necessary planning and creativity it deserves.

The Intentional House By Month also encourages you to research and explore different design ideas, color schemes, materials, and styles. This way, you can create a cohesive and harmonious home where each room flows seamlessly into the next.

Bringing Purpose and Style Together

One of the core principles of the Intentional House By Month is the combination of purpose and style. It's not just about creating a beautiful space; it's about ensuring that each element of your home serves a purpose and enhances your daily living.

For example, when designing your kitchen, you'll consider the layout to optimize functionality and workflow. You'll also choose appliances and storage solutions that make cooking and meal preparation easier and more enjoyable.

At the same time, you'll infuse your personal style and preferences into the design. Whether you prefer a modern, minimalist look or a cozy, rustic feel, you can tailor the aesthetics of each room to suit your taste.
