Unveiling the Hidden Gems

From Cornwall to Cumbria, the National Trust boasts a plethora of enchanting countryside sites scattered across the United Kingdom. These hidden gems are waiting to be explored, each offering a unique blend of natural wonders, historical sites, and cultural treasures.

Step foot into the mystical woodlands of Ashridge Estate, where ancient trees whisper tales of the past. Feel the sense of wonder as you wander through the vibrant gardens of Stourhead, carefully designed to create a living work of art. Get lost in the wild beauty of the Giants Causeway in Northern Ireland, marveling at the hexagonal basalt columns that seem to defy logic.

Embrace the Adventures

The Escape To The Country Handbook National Trust is not just about admiring beautiful landscapes from a distance. It invites you to become part of the story. Lace up your hiking boots and embark on thrilling trails that will lead you across moorlands, up towering cliffs, and into cascading waterfalls.

Discover your inner archaeologist as you explore ancient ruins and historic castles. Immerse yourself in the cultural heritage of the countryside by attending traditional festivals, visiting local markets, and indulging in mouthwatering regional cuisines.

Preserving Nature's Masterpieces

The National Trust is more than just a means of escape. It is a guardian and protector of nature's masterpieces. Their dedicated team of conservationists, volunteers, and experts work tirelessly to preserve and protect the unique habitats and wildlife that call these landscapes home.

By supporting the National Trust, you play a vital role in ensuring that future generations can continue to enjoy the splendor of the countryside. Your visits, donations, and memberships contribute directly to the maintenance and conservation efforts carried out by the organization.

Escape to Your Own Paradise

The Escape To The Country Handbook National Trust offers you the key to unlocking your own personal paradise. Whether you seek solitude among towering mountains or crave the rhythmic crashing of waves against a rocky coastline, the National Trust provides a variety of properties and landscapes to suit every taste.

So, why wait? It's time to escape the chaos of everyday life and embark on a journey of exploration, discovery, and rejuvenation. The English countryside awaits your arrival, ready to make your dreams of escape a reality.

The National Trust serves as a portal to the wonders of the English countryside. It allows you to immerse yourself in the beauty of nature, experience rich history, and connect with local traditions. By supporting the National Trust, you not only indulge in unforgettable escapes but also contribute to the preservation of these cherished landscapes for generations to come.

Dreaming of an escape from the rat race? This is an inspirational and practical book perfect for anyone looking to make the move – or even armchair travellers and fans of property porn.

This book offers advice on what to look for in a rural property, renovation and building, as well as transport and heating, running a rural business and the pros and cons of life in the countryside. The second half of the book is organised regionally, looking at the typical kinds of home you find in each place, the sort of landscape, local landmarks and days out. Features sprinkled through the book cover everything from dealing with listed building consent and public footpaths to how grow your own food and discourage deer from eating it first. It is beautifully illustrated throughout with the beautiful vistas to be enjoyed from the homes in the countryside, and gorgeous homes – from thatched cottages to stone farmhouses, restored mills and barn conversions.

Jules Hudson is well placed to talk about conservation and renovation issues too, having trained as an archaeologist and renovated his own historic house. He has been a presenter on BBC's Escape to the Country since 2007. The programme has run on daytime BBC1 since 2002, and is now in its eighteenth series. Each week it helps urban buyers find their dream home in rural Britain by showing them three specially selected properties. Along the way the programme tells us about the landscape and history of each area.
