A New Frontier: The Intersection of Arts, Humanities, and Technology

Art has always been a way to express the depths of our emotions, thoughts, and experiences. From Da Vinci's iconic Mona Lisa to Van Gogh's enchanting Starry Night, art has captured our imagination for centuries. Now, it's time to dive deeper into the fascinating world of artistic creations and explore how they can intertwine with the complex networks we encounter in everyday life.

This eBook delves into the realm of Leonardo Da Vinci, one of the greatest masters of all time, and reveals the brilliance behind his works from a fresh perspective. Using the lens of complex networks, we unravel the hidden patterns, connections, and intricacies found in his art, unlocking the secrets that have fascinated researchers, art enthusiasts, and curious minds for generations.

Understanding the Complexities: How Art and Networks Converge

Alt attribute: An image depicting Leonardo Da Vinci's artwork "The Last Supper".

As you embark on this remarkable journey, be prepared to witness the harmony between art and networks. Complex networks, such as social networks, neural networks, or even the networks of ideas and influences in the art world, surround us constantly. Harnessing the power of advanced algorithms and analysis, this eBook guides you through the intricacies of these networks and how they find their presence in Da Vinci's masterpieces.

From the delicate strokes in his paintings to the meticulous designs of his inventions, Da Vinci's creations resemble the interconnectedness of the world we live in. Marvel at the intricate details of "The Last Supper" and discover how each character forms a unique network within the painting. Witness the interplay of lines, shapes, and colors in "Mona Lisa" as they create a mesmerizing network of expressions and emotions.

The e-book Arts, Humanities, and Complex Networks captures the excitement of creators and scholars pioneering the application of network science to culture. Beginning in 2010, the AHCN symposia tracked breakthrough moments as network theories, big data, and inventive visualizations triggered new insight in fields ranging from 16th-century political history to 21st-century art. These papers were presented at the Leonardo Days at NetSci conferences, the High Throughput Humanities conference, and in the Leonardo journal at MIT Press. Authors include experts in visualisation, sonification and data exploration from universities and corporate R&D departments internationally. Their research is still unfolding and the ebook is coupled to a regularly updated web companion: <http://www.AHCNcompanion.info>
